

Managing Visitors and Volunteers in Natural Areas

Learn how to balance conservation management with public enjoyment of natural areas

Date: October 19-21, 2010

Location: Gold Head Branch State Park, Keystone Heights, Florida

Tuition: $380.00

Lodging: $35.00/person/night

Registration: <http://nata.snre.ufl.edu/>

This workshop provides guidance for managers so that they may successfully integrate visitors and volunteers into their natural areas management work.

Participants learn:

- 🌿 How managers have successfully dealt with visitor use issues
- 🌿 Effective interpretation techniques and materials
- 🌿 How to implement ADA guidelines
- 🌿 How different models of volunteer programs are used and implemented

